

Support for Children and Young People in North Kensington

Support Services | Grenfell Recovery

October 2021

THE ROYAL BOROUGH OF KENSINGTON
AND CHELSEA

Emotional health and wellbeing support services for children and young people in North Kensington.

We understand that sometimes it's hard to make sense of the range of services available to children and young people, particularly those who may have been affected by the Grenfell tragedy and may need support with recovery.

This brochure lists and describes the emotional health and wellbeing services available to children and young people in schools and community-based settings and provides information about what services are out there, who they are aimed at and how you can access them.

The services listed in this brochure include:

- ▶ Therapeutic and Counselling Support in Schools and the Community (pages 4-7)
- ▶ Family Support (page 8)
- ▶ Community Support, Outreach and Wellbeing Activities (pages 9-12)
- ▶ Wellbeing and Educational Support in School (pages 13-16)
- ▶ Broader specialist support accessed through schools (pages 17-18)

If you aren't sure about what support your child needs, you can get in touch with their class teacher or their school to talk through this with them and share any concerns you may have.

It may be that support is already available at school and they can help you make a referral. If not, you can use this leaflet to find out more about the other emotional health and wellbeing services and how to access them.

How to access support

I think my child or young person would benefit from some emotional health and wellbeing support but I'm not sure what, or where to ask for it.

Check with your child's school about what support is available there. Information about what support is available in what specific schools is set out in pages 19-20.

The school can help me get my child referred to the school-based support that s/he needs.

I'm still not sure that the service I think my child needs is delivered through school.

Pages 4-18 of this pack sets out the range of services available.

You can directly call or email the service to ask for more information, or to ask for help in referring your child to their service.

The service will let you know what information they need from you to make a referral, or if the referral has to be made by your child's school.

You can also ask a friend or family member to help you with requesting a referral.

Your child is referred (by you, by their school, or by another service) and begins to receive support.

Therapeutic and counselling support in schools and the community

Catholic Children's Society

Who is this service for?

Children and young people in primary and secondary education

What is this service?

Catholic Children's Society offers specialist early intervention counselling/therapy delivered on-site in school for children and young people. Alongside this support, the service works with parents and carers to strengthen relationships between the counsellors/therapists to equip them with the knowledge and skills to understand the challenges their children face, helping them feel empowered to provide effective and insightful support that will create a difference in their children's lives.

How to get in touch

Primary School: speak to your child's teacher and they can connect you to the service via the in-school Link Officer. Your child will undergo an assessment with the therapist who will also liaise with the parent/guardian.

Secondary School: students can self-refer to the service by speaking with their teacher or the Link Officer directly.

LCAT (Latimer Community Art Therapy)

Who is this service for?

Children and adolescents and adults in need of psychotherapy support for mental health

What is this service?

Latimer Community Art Therapy (LCAT) is a grassroots organisation that provides a clinical Art Psychotherapy service for children, adolescents and adults in the community and in some RBKC schools. They are commissioned to deliver art therapy to the wider community of North Kensington to meet a need for accessible mental health support in the community.

Art therapy uses art as a form of communication between a therapist and their client. It is not dependent on spoken language and can therefore provide an accessible way to engage with children who struggle with difficult emotions. LCAT offers one-to-one therapeutic work for children as well as group and individual sessions with children and parents.

How to get in touch

You can ask for more information, or you can self-refer to LCAT by completing the online form at: <http://www.lcat.org.uk/contact-us/> or email: referral@lcat.org.uk

(LCAT accepts self-referrals as well as referrals from professionals such as your GP, health visitor, CAMHS, social worker or youth worker).

Place 2 Be

Who is this service for?

Primary- and secondary-aged children and their parents

What is this service?

Place2Be helps schools to promote positive wellbeing, understand and identify mental health problems, enable children to focus on learning and gives them tools to cope with challenges throughout their lives. Support is delivered through one-to-one and group counselling for pupils, parents, and school staff.

They also have their own programmes called Parent Partnership, Place2Talk, Place for Parents, and Place2Think for teachers.

How to get in touch

If you would like to self-refer, please complete the online form, or call for more help and further information at:

Call: 020 7923 5500 Email: <http://www.place2be.org.uk/>

Grenfell Health and Wellbeing Service

Who is this service for?

Any child or adult affected by the Grenfell tragedy

What is this service?

Grenfell Health and Wellbeing Service is a free and confidential NHS service for children and adults who have been affected by Grenfell. The service provides a range of psychological therapies and support to help you feel better if you or your children are feeling traumatised, unable to sleep, having memories or pictures of the event unexpectedly popping into your mind, or feeling anxious, stressed, or worried.

How to get in touch

This service is accessed via self-referral. There is an online form to complete at: <https://grenfellwellbeing.com/self-referral-form/>

If you need help completing the online form, please ask for help from a friend, family member or your support worker (if you have one).

Trailblazer Mental Health Support Teams

Who is this service for?

Children and young people aged five to 25 years

What is this service?

This is a service delivered by the charity MIND. Trailblazers are Education Mental Health Practitioners (EMHPs) who are placed in schools where they help to identify the signs of mental health difficulties and provide evidence-based interventions to support children and young people who may be struggling.

How to get in touch

If you think this support would be of help to your child or young person, please speak with their school for further information on how to be referred.

CNWL Eating Disorders Service

Who is this service for?

Children and young people aged 17 or under

What is this service?

This service is made up of a team of professionals from a range of professional backgrounds (including doctors, psychologists, nurses, and other experts) who can assist with understanding and supporting young people who have a suspected or confirmed eating disorder diagnosis.

The Clement James Centre

Who is this service for?

Children in primary and secondary school aged seven to 18 years who would benefit from academic support, one-to-one counselling and one-to-one literacy and numeracy sessions.

What is this service?

The Clement James' Children and Young People's provisions exist to support the wellbeing of local young people in the context of the Grenfell Tower tragedy and Covid-19 pandemic. A Children and Young People's Counsellor offers one-to-one counselling sessions to manage trauma, self-esteem, emotional regulation and bereavement. Children and young people who have additional learning or behaviour needs can also benefit from intensive one-to-one literacy and numeracy support.

Staff and trained volunteers provide after-school sessions of structured academic study to students from ages seven to 18, alongside practical and emotional support.

How to get in touch

Call 02072218810 or email reception@clementjames.org if you would like more information about how to access this service.

Family Support

RBKC Early Help Service; Family Hubs

Who is this service for?

Families with children and young people aged up to 19 (up to 25 for young people with SEND)

What is this service?

The Early Help Family Hubs (North and South of RBKC) are a single point of access for support for children and families living in Kensington and Chelsea. Hubs offer access and information about a large range of services provided by the community and voluntary sector. In addition, they offer direct access to Early Help Practitioners (EHP) who provide support to families around parenting, child behaviour, and increasing school attendance. The EHPs link to all primary and secondary schools within the Borough and work with them to support early identification of any needs in families that might affect attendance or impact a child being able to reach their goals. EHPs also support schools to deliver the School Inclusion Programme which works to reduce the risk of exclusion for vulnerable children and young people.

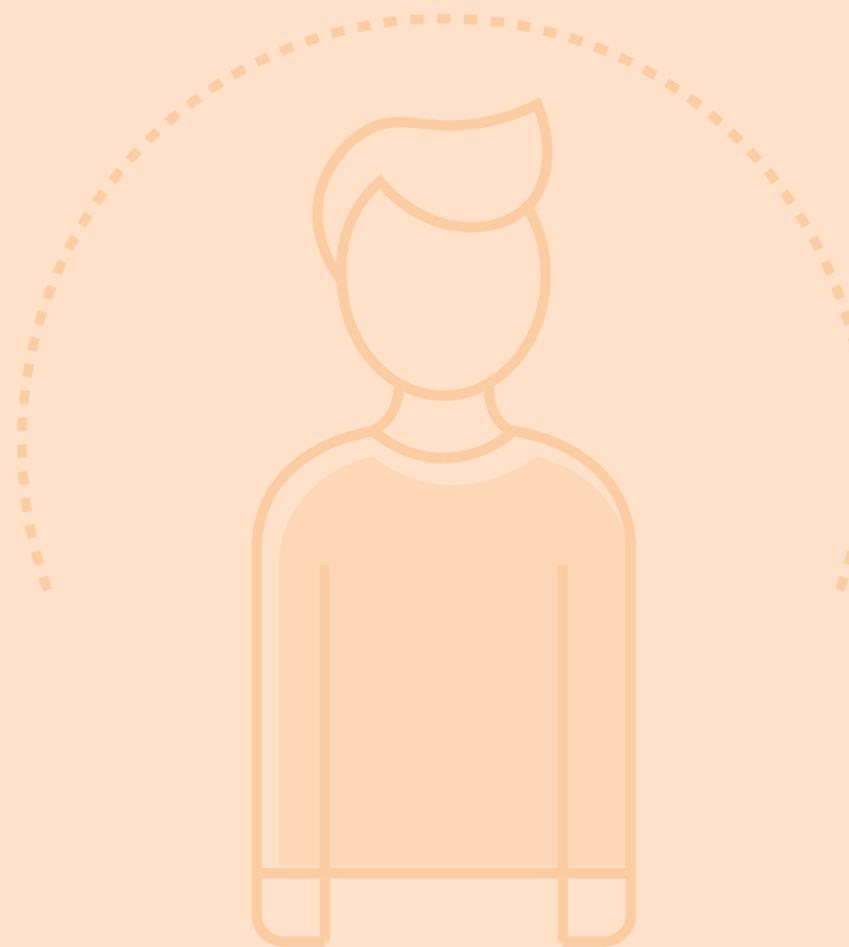

How to get in touch

You can refer your own child for this service directly. If you would like to do so, please complete an online referral form at:

www.rbkc.gov.uk/earlyhelp

Or contact the service by telephone or email:

P3

Who is this service for?

Children and young people aged 13 to 21 years who live in North Kensington.

What is this service?

P3 has a 'Wellbeing Coach' who is an integral part of the youth delivery programme at the Rugby Portobello Trust. The Wellbeing Coach delivers group work sessions, as well as one-to-one support for children and young people. The wellbeing coach is available 20 hours per week, supporting young people aged 13 to 21.

Group Sessions is delivered twice a week during term-time within our youth club. Utilising our mindfulness suite as a welcoming environment to work with young people, sessions focus on raising awareness of personal wellbeing and using the creative arts as a medium to help young people to learn ways to manage and improve their wellbeing. The Wellbeing Coach works with a small group of young people on a one-to-one basis where there is a specific need, and helps to signpost to other support and services to help address these needs. The support of the Wellbeing Coach will be available from 2022 for a three year period

ACAVA

Who is this service for?

Primary aged children who live and/or go to school in North Kensington and their parent/carers and siblings.

What is this service?

Flourish is a school holiday art programme for local families with primary school-aged children. It takes place at ACAVA's Maxilla Walk Studios and offers a space for families to get creative and enjoy learning new skills with professional artists. Workshops usually last about two hours and run during school half-terms and holidays with each workshop exploring a different theme. Past workshops have included building an installation that explores our relationship to the galaxy; science and art themed activities including making spinning planets and potato batteries; creating video installations using homemade camera obscuras, as well as activities such as printmaking, large scale collage and textile-based creations.

Flourish is a space for intergenerational collaboration; parents/carers must attend with their child(ren) and grandparents, aunts, uncles and other adult family members are welcome, as are younger and older siblings. It is also a social space and a great place to meet other local families and grow your peer network.

How to get in touch

Flourish programmes are publicised in advance of each half term or holiday. Sign up to ACAVA's newsletter, checking the North Kensington box, to receive information about all of ACAVA's North Kensington activity on a fortnightly basis.

Email programmes@acava.org to get in touch with members of the team.

Caravan

Who is this service for?

The project is for young people in North Kensington in Key Stage 2, in local primary schools as well as for older youth (aged 16 to 18) in local community centres based in North Kensington.

What is this service?

The Caravan Theatre is Small Truth Theatre's mobile arts and cultural venue, housed inside a 1950s retro caravan, based in North Kensington. We love to take to the streets and are often seen on Portobello offering free micro theatre to all. Caravan Theatre is running a three-year project, commencing in Spring 2022 called 'Caravan Theatre: OUR VOICES', which looks to create, make, inspire and share brilliant stories - with young people from our local community of North Kensington at the heart of the project. Celebrating the voices and talent of local young people.

This is a three year project starting in Spring 2022, in partnership with schools and community youth groups in the local area.

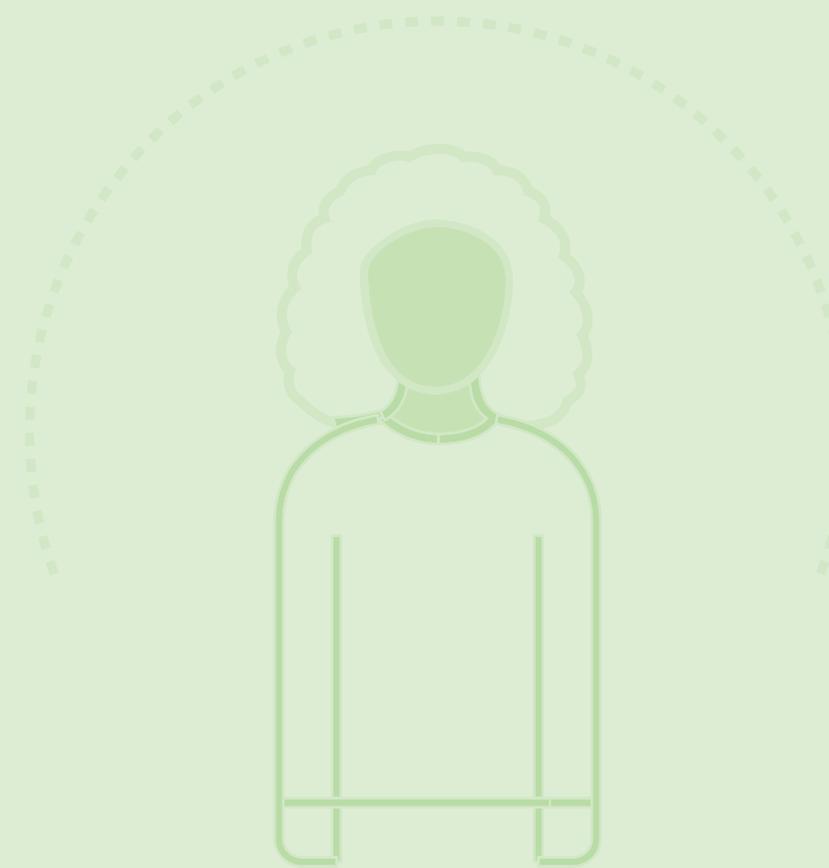

The project will be running performances and story creation workshops in schools and community centres, new stories created will then be recorded in the Caravan Theatre recording studio and made into new audio plays. Recordings will be available to download for free and listen to on all usual streaming platforms.

All the workshops, performances and online plays will be FREE to access for all participants and audiences. All audio plays will receive British Sign Language interpretation to ensure the project remains as accessible as possible.

How to get in touch

For more details about the project please visit the website: www.caravantheatre.co.uk and www.smalltruththeatre.com

If you would like to be involved you can contact Caravan Theatre directly at: admin@caravantheatre.co.uk - putting 'OUR VOICES' in the subject line.

FutureMen

Who is this service for?

Primary and secondary aged boys and young men, including those in Pupil Referral Units

What is this service?

Future Men is a specialist charity that provides emotional and practical support for boys and young men. Through our practice-led services, we work with boys and men from childhood to 25 to help them become healthy, dynamic, future men. From structured school programmes and youth hubs, to individual one-to-one sessions and outreach work, we provide the vital support and advocacy that changes boys' and young men's lives for the better. We focus our work with boys and men who face structural discrimination and disadvantage, including of race, income, and community.

Future Men deliver two distinct programmes in RBKC: the 'Boys Development Programme' for boys transitioning from primary to secondary schools, and the 'Ventoring Project' providing outreach and one-to-one support in community-based settings.

How to get in touch

All referrals into the service are generated via the school, so please speak with your child's teacher
